THE MAN THAT WASN'T BOTTLED UP .-The Southern Patriot, published at Marion. Smyth county, prints an amusing account of "The Man that Wasn't Bottled Up," which we here append: An incident of the Burbridge mas just come to hand that will bear telling. A member of the "new issue," whose bravers was scarcely equal to his interest for personal any one. was scarcely equal to his interest for personal safety while in a line of battle, spied a large, hollow log lying on the summit of the rugged cedar ridge near the then residence of "Gov." Sanders. Watching for a favorable opportunity, he succeeded in crawling into the hollow of this log unobserved. It was then late in the evening, and our troops soon fell back a short distance toward the saltworks. Some of the boys (unconscious of the animate patriotism therein contained), before leaving, gave the aforesaid log a turn down the hill, and it only stopped when it reached the base. When the vanguard of the raiders reached that point, they built fires, and made believe they intended occupying the position all night. A huge fire was built against our log, which soon made such headway that poor Confed's quarters became very uncomfortable. He was painfully conscious that he had to leave his hiding place, and felt but little consolation in escaping roasting alive, to be made a target for the colored soldiers to practice at by fire light. So putting on as bold a front as the nature of the case and his ebbing courage would admit, he bounded forth, yelling, "d-n you, do you mean to roast a man to death? Oh. Lordy. -" Consternation seized upon that squad of loyalists, and they scattered simultaneously; nor did they stand on the order of going. Our hero caught the infection, and he, too, "went;" and he now avers that his "strategetic movements" so demoralized the command that Burbridge was compelled to retreat without effecting his designs on the saltworks. The principal in the above transaction is now living in the neighborhood of the saltworks, and, we believe, is unselfish enough to share honors with the

A QUEER STORY.—The Conneaut Citizen gives the following account of a pl (or a trick,) on a pane of glass at Ashtabula, Ohio: One of the most singular occurences we have heard of is the profile of a man upon a window pane on the north side of a house at Ashtabula harbor, occupied at present by Mr. Charles Lynn. D. B. Geary visited the place on Thursday, for the purpose of gratifying his curiosity, and reports as follows: The outlines of this strange picture were first noticed some six weeks ago, gradually being developed, until on the occasion of his visit the profile was perfect, and the expression of the eye sharp and clear. Mr. Geary states that while looking at it there seemed to be no escape from the stare; get in what position you will, the eye seems to rest upon you with piercing sharpness. The profile represents a man of middle age, very heavy, full beard, with turn-down collar. Some days ago, Mr. Lynn sold the sash containing this profile to a gentleman for the sum of $25. Upon being removed from its position in the house, no trace of the strange picture could be seen, but upon being replaced, it was as plain to the eye as before. This marvel is attracting people by hundreds, the road to and from the house being constantly thronged with visitors, anxious to witness the sight. Mr. B. F. Wade and lady are among those who visited the place. Mr. Geary states that all attempts to wash it off have been without the least effect, although the strongest acids have been

TABLE-KNIVES .-- A table-knife to look upon is a very simple affair. But few people ever stop to consider or even inquire into the modes of their manufacture. Twelve distinct processes have to be gone through with. First, a bar is heated to redness. A length is cut off, the forger speedily "moods" this-that is, shapes it roughly into the form of a knife blade. Another heating is then required to fit the end for being fashioned into the tang, and yet another before it can undergo the further operation of "smithing," the last stage of which is the stamping of the marks of the thumb nail to facilitate opening. The tang is then ground and the blade marked with the name of the tirm. The slight ridge on the reverse side caused by this operation is removed by fire or the grindstone. The blade is then hardened by heating it to redness and then plunging it into water up to the tang. The tempering process follows next, the bluish yellow tint being considered as indicating the proper degree of heat at which to immerse the blade once more in cold water has been attained. After this the various kinds of blades are classified in the warehouse, and undergo sundry grinding operations to fit them for being hafted.

JUSTICE BETWEEN GOVERNMENT AND THE CITIZEN.-A recent decision of the U. S. Court of Claims in the case of E. M. Brown vs. the U.S. seems to have produced such an impression on the Washington bar that it has requested its immediate and separate publication. This opinion of the court shows by repeated contrasts, what no one here seems to have imagined, that the U. S. which started in advance of other nations in things relating to personal rights and civil liberty, have fallen behind most of the European States, and partieularly England, in those respects, in the last thirty years. European countries have been advancing to a higher civilization, and the facts cited by the Court of Claims show that the judicial system of England, for example, is now doing more for human rights and liberties than our own ever did; more for the protection of the weak as against the strong, and the citizen as against the government.—Baltimore Sun.

A DARWINIAN PIG.—The believers, as well as the opponents, of the Darwinian theory, that men and women are only educated and cultivated monkeys, apes and baboons, have an exciting subject under investigation at Cape May in the shape of an educted hog. Crowds of the sent their claims. men, daily interview him and question him in uathematics, arithmetic most intelligent men of the country, including, men, daily interview him and question him in Another supply of this superior and popular mathematics, arithmetic, history and cards, brand of FAMILY FLOUR just received and and all fail to get at the secret of the knowledge of this veritable porker. We were present a few days since when he was interviewed by some of the most erudite and eminent members of the Baltimore Bar, who tested him in various ways, and finally played several games of euchre with him, in which the hog was uniformly victorious, as he always is, even with the most expert players. - Baltimore American.

▲ WITH INTEREST: Under date of April 26th, 1871, Dr. HENRY J. ROGERS, 68 Sharp street, Baltimore, an eminent physician, writes regarding

CRYSTAL DISCOVERY:

"It affords me much pleasure to bear testimony as to the efficacy of your Crystal Discovery. Some years since, while in India, I suffered from a severe fever peculiar to the country. On my recovering, a patch of hair on the left side of my head became perfectly white, without at all affecting the remainder. To remove this unsightly appearance, I had recourse to various preparations, both in Europe and in this country; they all had one great defect-they dyed the hair black. Now, with your Crystal Discovery, It can get the desired shade—the natural color of my hair being dark brown. I consider your Discovery the best preparation I know of.
Yours truly,
HENRY J. ROGERS.

Now as the fact becomes more patent every day that the various dirty and filthy preparations advertised as Renewers, Restoratives, &c., are but compounds of Sugar of. Lead and Sulphur, and therefore should be shunned by all who value their health, it is scarcely a matter of surprise that the demand for NATTANS' CRYS TAL DISCOVERY, admitted to be perfectly harmless, and yet accomplish all, and more, than the poisonous articles claim to do, should have increased so rapidly. It restores the color and growth of the hair positively in a few days; strengthens the roots, makes an excellent dressing, soiling neither clothes nor scalp; but on the contrary it gives the scalp a pure and cleanly look, removing all dandruff and scurf. It is the most economical preparation in use. Put up in large bottles, at one dollar.

This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulg encies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. Dr. J. addresses all these who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or mar-

These are some of the sad and melancholy effeets produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Read, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Func-tions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consump-MENTALLY.-The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Con-fusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evilproduced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a limbit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply im-What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before contemplat-

MARRIAGE.

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial lappiness, Indeed, without those the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own. DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and ir prudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-time sense of shame or dread of discovery de-ters him from applying to those who, from educa-tion and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying tall the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dinness of sight, deathess, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country 'from whence no traveller returns.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the consitution, and meapable of curing, keep the unhappy sur and meapable of curing, keep the unnappy suf-ferer month after month taking their noxious o injurious compounds, and instead of being re-stored to a renewal of Life, Vigorand Happiness in despair leave him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
